The EPA's Community Change Grant awards are to "support community-driven projects that build capacity for communities to tackle environmental and climate justice challenges, strengthen their climate resilience, and advance clean energy". In addition, the target populations to be served are disadvantaged households or those who experience significant barriers to accessing climate resiliency and sustainability infrastructure or upgrades.

The County of Jim Wells is applying for an award through the EPA Community Change Grant program that would fund a variety of projects and programs designed to improve housing opportunities, increase uptake of Federal incentives for energy efficiency upgrades by harder-to-reach populations, and reduce energy costs for current and future residents of the County of Jim Wells. Some of these programs and projects are in the preliminary planning stages, and others would require a larger amount for their development.

Eligible activities for which the County proposes to apply include:

- Funding for energy efficiency upgrades and full electrification in new small and large residential buildings, including electric vehicle charging, solar power and geothermal where applicable;
- Mitigating climate and health risks from urban heat islands and extreme heat through solar canopies on publicly accessible parking lots.
- Community education and outreach related to energy efficiency and renewable energy.
- Workforce development that supports the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions and other air pollutants and increases the financial stability and growth of previously disadvantaged households.

Target project activities include the development of the following:

- Water Treatment System Upgrades
- Drainage System Updates
- Wastewater Treatment System Updates
- Parks and Green Areas
- Community Resource Center
- Healthy Home Improvements/Upgrades

The County intends to enter into a Professional Services Agreement (PSA) with at least one (1) project engineer licensed to practice engineering in the State of Texas to provide engineering and undertake implementation services for the proposed activities listed above.
